3. Innovation and Skill Development Programme: - Was organized for the support of rural infrastructure and initiatives for the start-up in agriculture. Under the supervision of Mr. Dilip Kumar Ojha, programme in-charge and member of Entrepreneurship and Start-up Cell of Guru Nanak College, Budhlada on 11/02/2022.

4. Department of Science Guru Nanak college Budhlada in collaboration with Entrepreneur & Start up cell organized an Apiculture Visit for B.sc.3 and B.sc.2 medical students. This visit was hosted by Priyanka Rani working as an assistant professor in Zoology in Guru Nanak College .Dr. Jasveer Singh is the resource person.

The visit was organized for students to enrich the learning experience through practical exposure in apiculture visit. This visit among students is a vital event per their curriculum to get a proper insight about how to rearing of honeybees for honey and wax. Bee keeping is a cheap and popular agricultural enterprise. Honey produced in bee- hives is the source of honey used in food and medicine. Taste and the quality of the honey depend upon the flowers the bee visit for nectar collection. Wax obtained from these hives is used in ointments, polishes etc.

This is an educational visit for students in which they learnt about different ideas for a new startup in their future. All the students were very thankful to department & the cell members for organizing this event.

At last Prof. Priyanka gave thanks to Dr. Jasveer Singh on the behalf of department & the cell.
